

MeritBSC

Tim Butler formed MeritBSC in 1986 to serve clients via Business Valuation, Strategy & Advice projects focused on improving profits, growth, ROE and market valuation.

MeritBSC client relationships span large public and small private companies. Tim's 30 years experience includes more than 100 projects with clients in the United States, Canada, Europe, Asia and Australia.

Clients rehire MeritBSC on more than 90% of projects, testament to the quality and value of our work. Loyalty, integrity and confidentiality form the foundation of our client relationships, which range from months to years to decades.

Prior to MeritBSC, Tim was a Senior Consultant with Deloitte Consulting working primarily with banks and hotels. Tim then joined Marakon Associates, a pioneer in shareholder value creation and value based planning. Tim led the financial services practice and was quickly promoted to Vice President and elected Partner.

Tim was educated at The Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania, Bath University in England, and Harvard University. Tim earned bachelors degrees in Economics (Finance) and Sociology (Political Economics) from Wharton and the University of Pennsylvania. Tim started his career in the public sector in Washington, DC at Legal Services Corporation. Tim earned his MBA at Harvard Business School.

Raised in a New York City family owned, wholesale food distribution business, Tim got an early start in business by working with his father, an owner operator entrepreneur with an investment mindset. His heroes are his father, Warren Buffett, Bob Dylan and Thomas Jefferson.

"I enjoy working with company owners, managers, CEO's and Board Members to improve business operations, financial performance and market value. Business and market dynamics are fascinating. Finding solutions to business problems can bring great opportunities too. If you have a business challenge, get in touch." Tim Butler
